

Poodle Club of Canada Health Registry

Poodles, like all breeds, have health problems - we, at the Poodle Club of Canada, strongly urge our members to health test their dogs. When considering the purchase of a Poodle, or use of a stud dog, it is useful to obtain as much health information as possible - including information on its ancestors, siblings and offspring. We have decided to include this information in our yearbook, to use as a reference, and hope with everyone's participation, that the Health section will be popular. Inclusion in this section is open to all Poodles owned or bred by a club member. Submission of information in all health categories was not required (or expected - differences in varieties). When reviewing entries do not make assumptions about why some categories may have been omitted - we only accepted health tests for the year 2000 (some leeway was given as this was our first issue); testing done in previous years was not accepted. The age and breeding status of a dog may also have some influence on the number of categories in which tests were performed. Also, not all members have full access to a complete range of specialists.

Owner and breeder. The fifth and sixth lines list test results.

Possible test results are:

Hips - Miniature and Standard Poodles - Specialist category requiring submission of an OVC, OFA, Penn Hip Report or certificate from another registering body

Eyes - All Poodles

Normal - an ACVO examination form with both eyes marked Normal was submitted

Condition - an ACVO examination form without both eyes marked Normal was submitted

SA (sebaceous adenitis) - Standard Poodles (usually) - consists of a written evaluation from a Veterinary Histopathologist

VwD (von willebrand's disease) - Miniature and Standard Poodles - DNA results from qualified lab

Patellas - Toy and Miniature Poodles - both knees were found to be free of luxation when checked by a vet

Addisons - Standard Poodles - blood test results show a normal range, from a qualified lab

Thyroid - All Poodles - blood test results show a normal range, from a qualified lab
